Forward-Looking Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements, as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements may be identified by the use of phrases such as “anticipate,” “believe,” “expect,” “forecasts,” “projects,” “will,” “can,” “would,” “should,” “could,” “may,” or other similar terms. There are a number of factors, many of which are beyond the Company’s control, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the forward-looking statements. Factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by such forward-looking statements include, among others, the following possibilities: (1) local, regional, national and international economic conditions, including actual or potential stress in the banking industry, and the impact they may have on the Company and its customers, and the Company’s assessment of that impact; (2) changes in the level of nonperforming assets and charge-offs; (3) changes in estimates of future reserve requirements based upon the periodic review thereof under relevant regulatory and accounting requirements; (4) the effects of and changes in trade and monetary and fiscal policies and laws, including the interest rate policies of the Federal Reserve Board (“FRB”); (5) inflation, interest rates, securities market and monetary fluctuations; (6) political instability; (7) acts of war, including international military conflicts, or terrorism; (8) the timely development and acceptance of new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users; (9) changes in consumer spending, borrowing and saving habits; (10) changes in the financial performance and/or condition of the Company’s borrowers; (11) technological changes; (12) acquisition and integration of acquired businesses; (13) governmental approvals of the Evans Bancorp, Inc. (“Evans”) merger may not be obtained, or adverse regulatory conditions may be imposed in connection with governmental approvals of the merger; (14) the shareholders of Evans may fail to approve the merger; (15) the ability to increase market share and control expenses; (16) changes in the competitive environment among financial holding companies; (17) the effect of changes in laws and regulations (including laws and regulations concerning taxes, banking, securities and insurance) with which the Company and its subsidiaries must comply, including those under the Dodd-Frank Act, and the Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act of 2018; (18) the effect of changes in accounting policies and practices, as may be adopted by the regulatory agencies, as well as the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, the Financial Accounting Standards Board and other accounting standard setters; (19) changes in the Company’s organization, compensation and benefit plans; (20) the costs and effects of legal and regulatory developments, including the resolution of legal proceedings or regulatory or other governmental inquiries, and the results of regulatory examinations or reviews; (21) greater than expected costs or difficulties related to the integration of new products and lines of business; and (22) the Company’s success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing items.

The Company cautions readers not to place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date made, and advises readers that various factors, including, but not limited to, those described above and other factors discussed in the Company’s annual and quarterly reports previously filed with the SEC, could affect the Company’s financial performance and could cause the Company’s actual results or circumstances for future periods to differ materially from those anticipated or projected.

Unless required by law, the Company does not undertake, and specifically disclaims any obligations to, publicly release any revisions that may be made to any forward-looking statements to reflect the occurrence of anticipated or unanticipated events or circumstances after the date of such statements.

Transformational Investments Underway: Upstate NY Semiconductor Chip Corridor

¹New York State
Empire Development

New York State has fostered the ideal semiconductor and advanced electronics manufacturing ecosystem¹:

- ✓ The most advanced, publicly owned semiconductor R&D facility in North America
- ✓ The nation's largest public university system and a highly educated workforce
- ✓ Stable and abundant energy and natural resources
- ✓ 3,000 acres of fully permitted, shovel-ready sites and the most ambitious incentives in the U.S. for semiconductor manufacturers

Transformational investments announced by leading semiconductor chip manufacturers are receiving funding through the CHIPS and Science Act of 2022, including:

- ✓ $6.1 billion to support Micron Technology Inc. plans to invest as much as $100 billion over next 20 years in a campus near Syracuse. (April 2024)
- ✓ $1.5 billion to enable GlobalFoundries to expand and create new manufacturing capacity and capabilities to securely produce more essential chips. (February 2024)

The U.S. Economic Development Administration announced $40 million in federal funding was awarded to support the NY SMART I-Corridor Tech Hub (New York Semiconductor Manufacturing and Research Technology Innovation Corridor) along I-90, including Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo. (July 2024).

IBM announced a $20 billion investment in the Hudson Valley region over the next decade with the vision that its Poughkeepsie facility will become a global hub for quantum computing development. (October 2022)

NBT is well positioned to support this regional growth.

- Our branch network is ideally situated along the Chip Corridor as shown in the green shaded area.
- Our leaders are connected to key economic and workforce development initiatives.
- We are active in gathering intelligence and developing long-term strategies for all business lines.
- We are also committed helping our customers and communities participate in this historic growth opportunity, including supporting housing and workforce development initiatives.

External Recognition

In the J.D. Power 2024 U.S. Retail Banking Satisfaction Study, NBT Bank ranked #2 in the NY Tri-State Region, which includes New York, Connecticut and New Jersey.
